

Tensolite

High-Performance Cable & Interconnect Systems

October 18, 2005

This is in response to your letter dated June 15, 2005 regarding the parts we have supplied to your company and their compliance to the Directive on the Restriction of the use of certain Hazardous Substances (RoHS).

The attached file details the list of parts purchased from Tensolite in the last two years. The file has two tabs. The first tab lists all the part numbers that do not contain lead, mercury, cadmium, hexavalent chromium, polybrominated biphenyls (PBB) and polybrominated diphenyl ethers (PBDE) beyond the acceptable limits of the EU Directive and are therefore, ROHS compliant. The second tab details a list of part numbers that have cadmium levels above the acceptable limits of the EU Directive and are therefore, not ROHS compliant.

We are in the process of working with the specification owners and our suppliers in evaluating alternative raw materials for these non-compliant parts. Tensolite's target is to have RoHS-compliant products by January 2006. However, this timing depends greatly on the OEM and their ability to approve the alternative materials.

Should you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to call or email me

Sincerely,

Lira Stewart
